Register Now!

Peter H. Johnston presents
Opening Minds – Using Language to Change Lives
Friday, April 24, 2015
8:30 AM. – 3:00 PM
Hilton Vancouver Airport Hotel
5911 Minoru Boulevard, Richmond, BC

WORDS HAVE THE POWER TO OPEN MINDS – OR CLOSE THEM!

Peter shows how our language choices and other classroom decisions affect children’s development as caring, collaborative problem solvers and how focusing on learners’ engagement affects their development, individually and collectively. The workshop shows how apparently small changes in classroom practice leverage larger changes not only in achievement, but in school behavior, self-regulation, literacy learning, and, among other things, happiness (yes, happiness).

Kindergarten to Secondary Teachers, Resource Teachers, Teacher-Librarians, Support Staff and Administrators

Register:  http://govsb.ca/peterjohnston
Payment by credit card. No Refunds

If above link is not selectable, copy and paste link to your browser.

Early Registration by February 28th, 2015: $90 (includes breakfast and lunch)
Registration beginning March 1st, 2015: $120 (includes breakfast and lunch)

Please read “Opening Minds” before Peter H. Johnston’s workshop.

Co-hosted by the British Columbia Ministry of Education – Changing Results for Young Readers (CR4YRs) and Vancouver School Board.
Information: Barbara McBride bmcbride@vsb.bc.ca
Gina Wong gnwong@vsb.bc.ca